

P.S: I will probably face grave acts of reprisal for writing this letter. But Your Excellency, please try to understand; life in Rwanda is hard -to say the least- when one has to constantly worry about the fate of his/her entourage. As I was composing this letter many people came to mind including my colleague Thadey Muyenzi (himself a genocide survivor) who was abducted by state agents over two years ago. We are still waiting to hear of his whereabouts.
